

OHJELMA

14.00 Opening

14.10 Journalism and Surveillance

John Lloyd, Financial Times, Reuters Institute for the Study of Journalism, Oxford University

*John Lloyd's presentation draws from his recent investigation looks into the relationship between journalism and surveillance, which provides journalism with acute dilemmas. The media claims the responsibility of holding power to account, but cannot know more than superficial details about the newly empowered secret services. His recent book, Journalism in an Age of Terror, (I.B. Tauris) is the first examination of the state of relations between two crucial institutions in the modern state: the intelligence services and the news media. Introductory chapter of the book can be uploaded here.*

14.40 Lessons and question from the Snowden revelations

Risto Kunelius University of Tampere

This presentation draws from an international study of the mainstream media discussions provoked by the NSA revelations in USA, United Kingdom, France, Germany, Russia, and China, reported in a recent book Journalism and the NSA Revelations: Privacy, Security and the Press (I.B. Tauris).

Introductory chapter of the book can be uploaded here

15.00 Panel discussion with Finnish experts

Jyrki Kasvi, Member of Parliament

Laura Halminen, journalist, Helsingin Sanomat

Erka Koivunen, chief information security officer, F-Secure

Martti J. Kari, Colonel, Finnish Defense Intelligence Agency

16.00 General discussion

16.30–17.00 Refreshments